1.12.7 Use of Restrictive Intervention

The use of such procedures will be allowed for a particular person only after a review and approval by clinicians, families, guardians and the Human Rights Committee. This process shall ensure that before the participant can be subjected to this type of procedure, that clinicians have exhausted other less restrictive interventions, and further, that the likely benefit of the procedure to the participant outweighs its apparent risk of life safety.
- B. The application of an approved restrictive intervention shall be strictly monitored by the DDO, clinician and the Human Rights Committee.
- C. All behavioral interventions, programs, methodologies and applications which utilize any interventions shall be implemented only under the following conditions:
  - At the time of the initial approval of any restrictive behavioral intervention, and at least annually, signature is required for both initial and annual plans from:
    - a. The participant with the participant's informed consent;
    - b. Family or advocate or legal guardian (as appropriate);
    - c. Medical professional;
    - d. Executive director, authorized representative;

- e. Support coordinator;
- f. Supervising clinician; and
- g. Chair or designee of the human rights committee.
- D. Procedures shall include safeguards to be implemented including but not limited to medical supervision, proposed and expected duration, frequency, and precautions to prevent injury. If the person with developmental disabilities shows symptoms of physical injury or distress during the use of any behavioral treatment procedure, the physical injury or distress shall be alleviated. Staff and the person's responses shall be documented.
- E. A statement of possible risk, possible side effects, benefits, cautions, and precautions shall be documented, and shall be described to and discussed with the participant and/or parents, guardian, or advocate, prior to gaining their authorization signatures.
- F. Staff shall also have access to a supervisor to determine whether to continue the intervention.
- G. Any person receiving behavioral treatment shall have his/her health monitored by a physician or registered nurse over the course of behavioral treatment, as medically indicated. The physician or registered nurse shall document their monitoring activity.
- H. Individual records pertaining to the use of behavioral interventions shall be made available for review by the executive director, or equivalent position of the DDO, representatives of the Department, the human rights committee, the participant and/or parent, advocate, or guardian (as appropriate).

- A. In addition to those prohibited under R.I. Gen. Laws §§ 40.1-26-3, 40.1-26-4.1, and 42-158-4, the following procedures shall be specifically prohibited from use under any circumstances:
  - 1. Utilizing law enforcement in lieu of a clinically approved therapeutic emergency intervention or behavioral treatment program.
  - Utilization of behavioral interventions for the convenience of the staff.

3. Utilization of behavioral interventions for any reason except for emergency protocol.

1.12.9 Crisis Prevention and Intervention

- A. Restraints shall not be employed as punishment, for the convenience of the staff, or as a substitute for an individualized plan. Restraints shall impose the least possible restrictions consistent with their purpose and shall be removed when the emergency ends. Restraints shall not cause physical injury to the participant and shall be designed to allow the greatest possible comfort, pursuant to R.I. Gen. Laws § 40.1-26-3(8). Restraints shall be subject to the following conditions:
  - 1. Physical restraint shall be used to protect the participant or others from imminent injury;
  - 2. Chemical or mechanical restraint shall only be used when prescribed by a physician in extreme emergencies in which physical restraint is not possible and the harmful effects of the emergency clearly outweigh the potential harmful effects of the chemical restraints; and
  - 3. Any restraint that is conducted shall be in accordance with state statute and federal statutes 42 U.S.C. § 290ii(b) and 42 U.S.C. § 15009(a)(3)(B).
  - 4. Any restraint that is conducted shall also be in accordance with federal regulations 42 C.F.R. § 483.420(a); 42 C.F.R. § 483.450(d); and 45 C.F.R. § 1326.19, incorporated herein by reference pursuant to R.I.
