Pages 114-115 provided on the print out at the public hearings. This is on section 1.9.5 All Grades Teacher certificates; specifically section J. "All Grades Registered School Nurse, Grades PK-12. Creating this alternate pathway will allow nurses with RN and 3 years of clinical experience (may not even have any pediatric experience and no school nurse training or experience), to function in a role that requires the education and training as is currently in place through RIDE for Certification of School Nurse Teachers. A RN that is not properly trained will not have the knowledge base to be working in this setting autonomously as a solo practitioner which can pose a risk for students safety, overall health and learning potential. We currently work as part of a team of educators and actively participate on IEP's, 504's, and serve as the health professional in the building in regards to students physical, mental and emotional health. We are the health experts that teachers, and support staff consult with when various health issues arise with students. We play an integral part in putting together Individual and Emergency Health Care Plans for students with special needs and assist in providing appropriate language and guidelines when setting up an IEP or 504 with medical provisions. A RN that is not certified will not be able to to this as they will not have the knowledge base to ensure an optimal least restrictive learning environment that has protections in place to ensure student success. We play a key part in student readiness to learn and by allowing another pathway for RN's, this will not remedy the issue for coverage but create another issue that will affect student outcomes. I respectfully request the dual pathway is not put into place.

I am concerned that the 150 units (hours) will be an onerous burden on educators both in terms of time and money without providing the safety nets that would insure that this would be quality time that translates to an increase in teacher effectiveness and student achievement. Instead of creating more red tape and hoops to jump through, we need to start creating real change. RIDE needs to support and motivate districts to start making real collaboration an integral part of the school day from September through June.

Section 1.8.2: 150 hours of professional learning is arbitrary and unreasonable. This needs to be reduced.

Section 1.8.5 B and C: 75% sustained requirement is unreasonable. If the 75% is what is determined as necessary, then the districts should be required to provide it. The way the regulation is currently worded, the financial burden is being placed on already under paid teachers. Teachers are already required to provide for tools and items to adequately do the job out of their own pockets. Adding this burden is unacceptable.

Section 1.8.5 D, E, F: RIDE is the only agency that can grant certification, so why are the districts given the authority to approve the professional learning units? Shouldn't RIDE be responsible for this? If the districts are going to be allowed to approve the PLUs, then they should also be tasked with providing them.

Section 1.8.5: Does not provide for an adequate appeals process for disputed PLUs.

Section 1.8.5 G: Imposes an additional burden on teachers for maintaining and storing PLU records without providing a means for them to do so. Once again, adding to the burden on teachers.

These regulations place additional burdens on a profession that is already underpaid and under valued. Teachers, in general, are eager to stay abreast of education trends and regularly try to improve on their craft. These regulations do not assist them in this endeavor, but rather make it harder for them to do so and make the profession less attractive. Please reconsider what you are asking of this profession.

1.8.5 page 64. Every district is already providing meaningful professional development specific to content areas. This will drastically overburden administrators and educators who are already overwhelmed and doing various events and activities for their school and community. This is complete overkill. Not to mention the coverage crisis these would cause due to a lack of quality substitute teachers. This would FORCE teachers away from their classrooms more then they already are thus impacting legitimate student learning negatively. Lets not pretend substitutes provide higher level learning. This should be a district by district approach and RIDE knows this is going to be an absolute mess. I wonder how many educators and administrators were asked about the effect on a schools day to day operations?

I am concerned with the amount of time and money it will take to continue to keep my job. My husband and I are both teachers, therefore we would both need to pay for outside grad courses and attend workshops on nights and weekends. My husband already has a second job because two teacher salaries does not cover the costs of two kids in daycare. I logistically do not think we would be able to maintain both our certifications, care for our children and pay for our bills. This would force at least one of us to leave a career that we love.

Conditions for Renewal of Professional Certificates ( page 42; Section 3b)

"For certificates expiring between January 1, 2020 and August 31, 2020, the applicant will submit a prorated number of the 150 required professional learning units equal to 30 professional learning units."

Concern- What is a professional learning unit? Is it the same as 1 hr of PD? Does this requirement mean 30 hours of PD, or 30 course credit hours? How will I be able to meet this requirement? Who will be providing PD?

Section 1.8.5 (B.) Educators are responsible for completion of all PLU's , including financial responsibility...."

Concern-How much am I going to be required to pay out of pocket, in addition to the renewal fees for my certificates( I have to renew 3). This isn't fair, especially if I have to take college courses to meet this requirement. I have a Master's Degree+30 and I used to be considered as Highly Qualified for my position. I can't afford to take college classes, nor do I think I should have to return to college at age 52 with less than 10 years before I retire. Requirements for senior teachers like myself should be tiered. The next time I have to renew my certificates in 2025, I will have had to nearly complete equivalent coursework to another teaching degree. That is ridiculous.

I'm concerned with how the financial responsibility of taking 150 PLU's will juxtapose with already low teacher salaries. Many teachers do not pursue higher ed or professional development due to the high cost of graduate level courses and sustained professional development opportunities. I feel that, if the state is requiring this, then it is also on the state to mandate a raise in teacher salaries (to cover the cost of the PLUs), a reimbursement program for PLU costs, or district-created & free/affordable PLU opportunities.

I have many concerns for the proposed changes, specifically allowing 20% of a teacher's workload to be teaching in an area outside the teacher's certification. This will negatively impact the quality of a student's education and will bring fiscally poorer communities test scores even lower.

Endorsements: page 3 and page 79: I'm in full support of allowing educators to customize their expertise areas through endorsements.
Residency: page 6: The shift from a student-teaching experience to a residency experience is strong and most prep programs are prepared for that. The biggest question for RIDE will be to ensure that, in creating this regulation, we are making the clinical experience more meaningful and not inadvertently making educator preparation more tedious or just with a longer-time-frame "box check."
Cultural responsiveness: page 25: This new standard will be hard to enforce as "cultural responsiveness" has large and diverse meanings, but the fact that RIDE created a new standard for Educational Leaders focused on equity and cultural responsiveness is a hugely important signal to the field.
CT/MA reciprocity: page 48-49: I cannot believe we don't have this available already and fully support this provision. Professional learning: page 52-61: I think we might need to revisit the number of PLUs required for various credentials and the number of PLUs given to different experiences and showcases of knowledge. I don't think, at present, we can know the exact PLU value of prior knowledge or a higher education course, etc. So those will be worth revisiting with potential regularity as we figure this out. But I do believe that, as we ask students to be lifelong learners, educators should be lifelong learners as well. And I appreciate the acknowledgement from RIDE that learning can take many shapes for educators.
Professional Development Plans: Page 61: If we require these for students, I don't see why we shouldn't also have them available for educators.
