In re: Proposed revisions to Air Pollution Control Regulation
No. 23 “Control of Perchloroethylene Emissions from Dry Cleaning Operations”

DECISION

Introduction

On October 15, 2018 a notice was posted on the websites of the Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management (RI DEM) and the Rhode Island Office of Secretary of State and was sent to interested parties announcing a public comment period to accept comments on the adoption of proposed revisions to Air Pollution Control Regulation No. 23, Control of Perchloroethylene Emissions from Dry Cleaning Operations (250-RICR-120-05-23). The notice stated that a public hearing would be held if requested by twenty-five or more people, a governmental agency or subdivisions, or an association having not less than twenty-five members. No requests for a public hearing were received. The public comment period ended at 4:00 PM on November 14, 2018.

The purpose of this regulation is to limit perchloroethylene emissions from dry cleaning operations. The proposed revisions to the rule reflect current RI Code of Regulations formatting requirements. The Department is proposing to eliminate sections that no longer apply. There are no new requirements being proposed.

There were no comments received of the proposed revisions to Air Pollution Control Regulation No. 23, Control of Perchloroethylene Emissions from Dry Cleaning Operations (250-RICR-120-05-23).

Decision

It is the decision of the Department to adopt the proposed revisions to Air Pollution Control Regulation, 250-RICR-120-05-23, “Control of Perchloroethylene Emissions from Dry Cleaning Operations” as proposed. The final amended regulations are appended to this Decision.
