I. PREFACE

Pursuant to Rhode Island General Laws section 42-66-4, the Rhode Island Department of Elderly Affairs (DEA) manages the state transportation system for the elderly and persons with disabilities provided through the RIdE program (“RIdE Participants”). The goal of DEA is to manage and oversee the program so as to ensure the provision of quality and safe transportation services to qualified elderly and persons with disabilities. Specifically, emphasis is placed on priority categories of transport services in relation to existing state funding, vehicle and passenger safety and sensitivity to the needs and concerns of the elderly and disabled clients. DEA contracts with a broker/provider (RIPTA) for transportation services for the elderly and persons with disabilities. Transportation funds available through the DEA are specifically allocated for services to be provided for Rhode Island residents sixty (60) years of age and older and Rhode Island Department of Human Services (DHS) Medical Assistance clients.

RIdE services for elders and persons with disabilities are available to enable them to achieve and/or maintain self-sufficiency, including reduction or prevention of dependency or to support both mental and physical health by enabling clients to participate in community life, therefore preventing or reducing inappropriate institutional care.
