

Concise Explanatory Statement for 855-RICR-10-00-2

This rule amends RITBA's Rules and Regulations Governing Disputes Involving the Nonpayment of Tolls, Administrative Fees, and Fines. The purpose of the amendments are to harmonize such Rules and Regulations with Rhode Island General Law by deleting and replacing the existing substantive definitions of "Toll Violator" and "Toll Evader" and replacing the same with references to corresponding definitions set forth in the Rhode Island General Laws.

RITBA believes that amending its Rules and Regulations Governing Disputes Involving the Nonpayment of Tolls, Administrative Fees, and Fines will not have any impact on societal costs or benefits. A RITBA believes that amending its Rules and Regulations Governing Disputes Involving the Nonpayment of Tolls, Administrative Fees, and Fines is appropriate under applicable law. These amendments would harmonize the Rules and Regulations with Rhode Island General Law by deleting and replacing the existing substantive definitions of "Toll Violator" and "Toll Evader" and replacing the same with references to corresponding definitions set forth in the Rhode Island General Laws. RITBA anticipates incurring no costs associated with amending its Rules and Regulations. Accordingly, RITBA believes that amendment is appropriate.
